Unit 7 Speaking Task

Work with a partner. You two are planning a meal for a party. Make suggestions of different food, and practise describing the different types. Use expressions from the Useful language box.

A: I'm planning a meal for a party with our class. What kind of food should we have?

B: _____? (make a suggestion)

A: _____
_____ (propose a question)

B: We could cook _____ (make a suggestion)

A: Or _____ (offer another option)

B: _____? What's that?

_____

Answers in bold.

Girl What kind of food should we have?

Boy 1 How about a barbecue?

Boy 2 At least three vegetarians are coming to the party. If we have a barbecue, what will the vegetarians eat?

Girl We could cook vegetables on the barbecue, too.

Boy 1 Or haloumi. The vegetarians might enjoy halloumi.

Boy 2 Halloumi? What's that?

Boy 1 It's a kind of cheese. It comes from Cyprus, and it's popular in the Arab World and in Greece. It goes well with vegetables cooked on the barbecue – peppers, corn, mushrooms.

Boy 2 What does it taste like?

Boy 1 It's a little salty.

Girl That sounds great. But not everyone likes cheese. Let's have some fish too.

Boy 2 Well, OK, but vegetarians don't eat fish, either.

Girl Yes, OK. So we'll have plenty of bread and different types of salad. Everyone eats salad – even the people who eat meat, right?

Boy 2 OK. And maybe some chicken.

Boy 1 And burgers ... What about drinks?

Girl Why don't we ask people to bring their own drinks?

Boy 2 That's a great idea. I'll put that on the invitation. If we ask people to bring their own, then everyone will be happy with the choices.

Boy 1 Right. What about plates, knives and forks?

Girl I'll get those. I can get some cheap ones at the supermarket.

Lovely boat noodles

Fabulous food and we loved all food here. Comparing to the Central branch, food is much better here - tho no cocktails. Boat noodle is a must have, and fried rice cannot be missed too!

Date of visit: January 2023

Freegan Pony, Paris

Place Auguste Baron

Opening hours: Sunday & Thursday 19:30–22:30, Friday & Saturday 19:30–23:00

Freegan Pony is a very welcoming and relaxing place to eat. We went on a Saturday evening, when it was very lively, but everyone was very pleasant and calm.

The brasserie's 'selling point' is that their experienced chefs prepare the meals with imperfect fruit and vegetables – produce that supermarkets don't want, but which is still safe to eat. This is by no means a problem – the food is simple and vegetarian, fresh and tasty.

Of course, one advantage of eating here is that it is cheaper than most restaurants in Paris. You can eat well for less than ten euros.

We would definitely recommend Freegan Pony – it's very good, cheap and it helps the environment. What's not to like?

atmosphere

kind of food

cost
